Transferor, Transferee, and NI agree on the following terms and conditions by signing below.

- A) Transferor agrees to transfer to Transferee all of the software identified above in Section 2, including any and all associated materials, such as media, manuals, proof-of-purchase certificates, software critical bug notices (if any), upgrades, patches, and updates of software (and any copies thereof). Transferee shall accept the aforesaid software and materials transferred from Transferor and Transferee agrees to comply with all the terms specified in the applicable software license agreement under which Transferor obtained the software licenses to be transferred. Transferee further agrees to perform any of Transferor's obligations under the applicable software license agreement that were not fulfilled by Transferor prior to the software license transfer.
- B) As of the proposed transfer date or the date of NI's signature below (whichever is later), Transferor shall cease to use the licenses set forth in Section 2 and shall immediately uninstall from any laptop, computer, server, tablet, or any media the software that will be transferred to Transferee; Transferor understands and agrees that as of the proposed transfer date, it shall cease to enjoy any rights in or related to the software licenses transferred and that it waives any claim against NI with respect to the use of the software prior to the transfer contemplated herein.
- C) Transferor and Transferee agree to pay any taxes (if incurred) in relation to the transfer of the software licenses specified in Section 2 of this Software License Transfer Form.
- D) If local law requires a consideration or a nominal fee or local registration to effect such transfer of software licenses as contemplated herein, Transferor, Transferee and NI agree to provide further assistance among the parties and execute separate documents as required to fulfill such purpose. Such separately executed documents among the parties will automatically constitute an integral part of this form with the same legal effect.

Transferor, Transferee, and NI each acknowledges that is has read this Software License Transfer Form, understands it, and agrees to be bound by its terms.
